

Cough

Please remember that most upper respiratory infections are not caused by bacterial infections but are caused by viruses, which do not respond to antibiotic therapy. Viruses may take several weeks to run their course and relieve you of your symptoms.